Hurley Backs City's Simpson Break Inquiry

Apparently late was the defiant mood of Edward P. Simpson, accused killer, that he was the "greatest guy the cops ever got." While at times openly sneering his contempt in charges brought against him for the Newton murder, Simpson presents an entirely different picture here. He is shown on his way to the Norfolk prison hospital for an operation, surgeons fear may prove fatal. He tried to cover up when crowds hurled cries of "Bail" and "killer" as he was taken away from East Cambridge jail.

RIVERS ACTS IN NEW SLAP AT HURLEY

Atlanta, Sept. 1 (AP)—Governor E. D. Rivers today paroled Fleming Wilks, Atlanta Negro serving a chain gang sentence for operating a lottery, on condition that he go to Massachusetts.

Governor Charles F. Hurley of Massachusetts recently refused to extradite a Georgia chain-gang fugitive charged in a Southern state.

Wilks is charged with operating a lottery and a chain gang. He was arrested in Georgia and is now in custody of the Georgia State Police.

Governor Hurley seems to be in need of extra lottery operators. Governor Rivers said: "I am accommodating, but Governor Hurley and his associates are not."

All the Answers--

For a long time, and allegedly with the resignation of some persons in high places, Edward Simpson was allowed to thumb his nose and make insolent faces at justice. The public demands to know why.

Seized in connection with a big wool robbery in Hudson and held in high bail for trial in Middlesex County he was taken on a writ of habeas corpus into Suffolk County for trial on a much less serious charge.

Why? Convicted in Suffolk County of the lesser charge, he was sentenced to three months in the House of Correction on Deer Island, but he appealed and was lodged in Charles Street Jail instead of being returned to Middlesex County.

Why? Converted in Suffolk County Superior Court on his appeal, he was sentenced to six months. He asked the court to send him to Charles Street Jail.

Why? The court refused to send him to Charles Street Jail and ordered him committed to Deer Island. But the committing order was made out to Charles Street Jail.

Why? Perhaps one of the answers may be found in the fact that a few weeks after entering Charles Street Jail he escaped. But the public wants all the answers.

Shanghai Fired; U. S. to Defy Japs

Shanghai, Sept. 1 (AP)—A transferring series of great men from forced in Shanghai tonight, leading by naval guns and aerial bombs opening Japan's big offensive against all China.

The latest one of them in the Szechwan creek area facing the American Embassy, found a magnificent and safe background for the military drama.

Twenty-one Japanese destroyers and cruisers tonight, along with the Chinese and Kwantung armies of Shanghai's north and Japanese war planes, raised bombs on Chinese positions.

Warning, Shanghai's historic defense post at the river bend where the Whangpoo meets the Yangtze, already was in Japanese hands. But the backdrop Chinese were fighting with courage and tenacity, holding firmly to many important positions.

The Shanghai strain-caster to the Japanese offensive, which is to extend all over China, found American and British naval commanders considering the possibility of using their protective strength to help the Chinese.

KILLER GIVES CONSENT FOR OPERATION

BULLETIN
Governor Hurley today ordered Commissioner of Correction Arthur J. Lomas and Commissioner of Public Safety Paul G. Bell, head of the state police, to hold themselves in readiness for an official state investigation of Edward P. Simpson's escape from Charles Street Jail.

In a formal letter to the Boston City Council the governor informed the body of his action. At the same time, Simpson, in Norfolk prison colony, gave verbal consent to an operation to remove a bullet from his neck.

Prison officials, however, demanded written consent before allowing the operation. The bullet may be used as evidence against Simpson in his murder trial.

Governor Hurley today offered full state aid, including services of the state police, in the investigation of the escape of Edward P. Simpson, alleged police slayer, from Charles Street Jail.

The offer will be accepted by the city council upon committee if within 48 hours of official request a consensus of the committee is reached on September 3, Chairman George A. Murray announced today.

The statement came shortly after Mr. Lomas had declared that all state agencies, 100 per cent of assistance will be available to any prosecution upon request. Murray declared that the committee would report on Sept. 3.

"Now the bigger you go the harder you fall, and it came today as comical as if a clock around and around that Charlie McCarthy had been practically named as current correspondent on the housing of a law-suit romance."

Judy Canine, the Florida military correspondent, and Edgar Bergen, the triquetron sensation of the radio for the past year, have split, it was admitted in Hollywood today, almost tearfully by Jolly.

No Jolly's role said, and Judy play would fiddle to the wooden-headed dummy, Charlie.

"It's an obsession with Eddie—this dummy," she declared. "He thinks and talks of nothing but Charlie."

"So now Eddie can go stuff his old dummy," she declared.

Clings to Her Fatherless Boy

This dramatic scene, made at police headquarters today, shows Mrs. Frances Fitzgerald, 30-year-old scrubwoman, fondly embracing 13-year-old John Rondoni, her son by a previous marriage. She is accused of kidnapping the boy. She told police that he came from the home of his paternal grandparents six months ago and begged her to take him in.

SCRUBWOMAN HELD AS SON'S KIDNAPER

Accused of kidnapping her own son, Mrs. Frances Fitzgerald, 30-year-old blonde scrubwoman, was arrested by detectives today on a warrant forwarded here by the Mansfield police.

The woman, who lives in Cedar street, Boston, denied the charge indignantly and said the child had come to her from the home of his paternal grandparents six months ago and begged her to take him in.

In police headquarters, where she waited the arrival of Mansfield police, Mrs. Fitzgerald held the 13-year-old boy close to her, sobbing and hugging her head in her hair.

The boy is John Rondoni. Mrs. Fitzgerald said she had been married to his father for more than nine years.

The child had been living with the Rondonis, a Fitzgerald said, prior to his appearance at her door.

Teas courtdown her cheeks, the balding haired mother complained to a Boston Evening American reporter.

"I go out scrubbing two days a week to make money for a home for John. I never knew the grandparents intended to do anything like this to us."

FROD OF BOY

Proudly, she pointed out that John had just been promoted to the fifth grade in Nathan Hale school. But her face clouded almost immediately as she recalled.

"That night he came back in, he was awfully dirty. It took two months to get his little legs clean."

Mrs. Fitzgerald said that a lawyer called at her home to take the boy back to Mansfield. She quietly inquired as to the lawyer.

"I want to stay with my mother. I don't ever want to go back there."

Mrs. Fitzgerald indicated the Rondonis had never adopted her son.

"I have not been in court and I have not signed any papers."

Washington, Sept. 1 (AP)—The War Department today announced the successful initial flight of the world's fastest, most formidable fighting airplane.

"It is expected that this plane will have sufficient speed to overtake this large, fast bomber, and the gunpower to cope with them successfully when engaged," the War Department announcements stated.

The plane is armed with six .50 caliber machine guns, the most powerful armament ever carried on a fighting ship. It also carries light bombs.

Los Angeles, Sept. 1.—Found at last—a leading man for Kay Francis' "Return From Limbo." Pat O'Brien, who's been concentrating on he-man epics like "Submarine D-1," has just been handed the role. He'll shed his uniform and become an advertising man.

"Limbo" was held up while Hal Wallis negotiated with Kay Francis and later with Richard Allen. He now is a free man.

One more bit of news about the silver screen. Which is a fact of saying that Ruth Ma. daughter of Tom, has signed to make a series of Westerns for George H. Brown, who produces the George H. Brown pictures.

But most recent picture a number of years ago has recently been loaned to the studio for a new picture. It is a picture of a man and a woman.

Politics Shedding And Doesn't Sing

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Politics and canary birds are being smothered this month. But only Charman Hamilton can sing while he's shedding his feathers.

Hamilton's prognostications are as accurate as a sundial on a rainy day. We are sending him a crystal globe made of shattered glass.

The present group of Republican back-seat drivers have moved up in front. Their next seat is on a park bench.

We'll tell Hamilton something he doesn't know about the Republican party. He has driven a political back seat.

And the G. O. P. is leader than a varicose leg. Maine and Vermont want to come back into the union. (Copyright 1937)

Brockton "Captured"!

THE Army, waging mimic warfare in Massachusetts, imagines Brockton captured by foreign invaders.

Defenders, composed of National Guard troops, move along a 40-mile front to rescue the fallen city.

Meanwhile, the invaders patiently await the arrival of reinforcements from Buzzards Bay.

The defenders will win, of course. It has all been nicely plotted on paper. And Brockton, safe and sound, will be restored to the American people.

That is the trouble with mimic wars: like solitaire or chess, you can play them to suit your own purpose.

Not so with real war. Real invaders shuffle their own cards, make their own moves. They don't suit anybody else's purpose.

The day of an army's marching in the manner of cadets on parade, setting up camps and fighting according to hard and fast rules is gone. The wars in Spain and China prove that.

Today it is a tinged army that flies overhead, dropping bombs with little or no worry about who or what is hit.

Consequently there is no such thing as returning an invaded city safe and sound to its owners. No shell targets are ever safe and sound.

What we need and what we must have is an AIR FORCE SECOND TO NONE IN THE WORLD. We must have aerial fortresses that could go out and meet the enemy and bomb them BEFORE THEY BOMBED US.

He Would Curb Education

BY EVELYN UNIVER

SITTING CITY president, James L. McConaghy, apparently believes in the old slogan. "A little education is a dangerous thing."

For at Williamstown's Institute of Human Relations he declared:

"Democracy would be wise if it could curb the education of thousands of our present school population."

He contended that "for thousands today a high school training is largely a waste of time and a waste of public funds."

And he concluded with this advice:

"We are so education-minded as a nation that we refuse to see that education may be a waste and not an asset for some of us."

Give Up or Get Nothing!

THE President's letter to Connecticut Congressmen Citron interests all New England, river valley residents especially.

The Connecticut and Massachusetts flood control projects can be started immediately, says Mr. Roosevelt, if—

The Legislatures of Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont and Connecticut, called into special session, surrender power rights to the Federal Government.

Here, unmasked, is the New Deal's determination to force its will upon the States. Enter they boast the white flag, or the government in Washington looks the money coffers and gives them nothing.

Unfortunately for New England, this determination will probably mean no flood relief for many years to come.

Laboratories that argued for months before reaching an agreement on the present flood compact cannot be expected to perform miracles in a week, a month or perhaps a year.

The whole situation is most regrettable.

"In this country a man has no right to say what his wife should do or should not do. Women have no right to go out as they like," said Judge Sears.

That's what we agree, of course. All right thinking people do. But, just the same, we are warning Judge Sears.

A Kiss Awaits the Judge

BEATRICE FAIRFAX will be Judge George B. Sears of Salem if she ever meets him. We're sure of that.

Never in all her long and active life was Beatrice a louder champion of the rights of oppressed wives than Judge Sears.

Complaining that a man beat his wife after she ignored his instructions and spent the evening with another woman prompted the judge, comments, and this he said:

"Women are not slaves, but many husbands harbor that theory."

"A wife can go where she wants, and stay as long as she wants, providing she doesn't bring disgrace on her family, or neglect her children."

When the nation's ruler has no right to say what his wife should do or should not do. Women have no right to go out as they like."

That's what we agree, of course. All right thinking people do. But, just the same, we are warning Judge Sears.

It Pays to Be Early Bird

REGISTRAR GOODWIN'S warning concerning the compulsory inspection of automobiles interested all Massachusetts motorists.

The statewide inspections began officially today and continue for 30 days.

But any driver whose car is found to be faulty will be removed from the road immediately. The four weeks' period of grace will not apply to him.

And, after September 13, Registry inspectors, stationed on principal thoroughfares, will stop and examine every machine that does not bear a sticker.

The rules, the wise automobile owner will lose no time in getting to an inspection station. He will reason that it pays to be the early bird, for, like the tardy bird who lost the worm, the tardy motorist is too apt to lose his license.

The Human Side of the News

A great old gentleman of the American stage has just celebrated his 86th birthday. Associated with Broadway for more than half a century he has won the affection of every member of the theatrical profession, and of almost all of New York as well.

For these days play companies are in the doldrums, and the theatrical profession is in a state of depression. The great old gentleman of the American stage has just celebrated his 86th birthday.
